KILLED A MAN IN A DAZE.

Strange Tragedy in a Brooklyn Barber Shop.

Nicolo, the Accused Murderer, Remanded for Examination.

Benjamin Nicolo, an Italian barber, thirty-two years old, of 44 President street, Brooklyn, was arraigned before Justice Tigue, in the Butler street court this morning, charged with the brutal murder of one Moscone, a shoemaker, of 150 Twenty-first street, who was killed in a barber shop at 506 Sixth avenue, Brooklyn, Nicolo was an "extra man" who worked for White Saturday and Sunday. He was a member of the Italian party.

At 10:30 a. m. around a little room back of the shop, the "grovler" was working industriously, and towards evening the party began to show the effects of their dissipation. Nicolo lay down in a chair and fell asleep. Several other persons called during the evening and remained until nearly midnight, when they started to go home. White stepped out of the room to see them on a horsecar. When he returned, he found Nicolo still asleep. He shook him vigorously, but was unable to arouse him, and Mrs. White called her father, who was a police officer, to wake Nicolo. She shook him vigorously, but was unable to arouse him, and Mrs. White called her father, who was a police officer, to wake Nicolo. ## POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Flattery Gets Big Odds for the Feature of the Day.

Track Expected to Be Dry—Youngsters Scheduled to Sprint.

The racing at Coney Island today will be rather interesting, for the card is very well made up. The feature is the meeting between Blitzen, Bel Demono, Flattery, Prince Howard, Elton and Gold Dollar. Flattery receives eighteen pounds each from Bel Demono and Blitzen, and it is doubtful if these two, as good as they are, can give the Gloucester crack that much weight.

King Crab, Arzel and Hyacinthe ought to make a good race at a mile and a quarter, and the three-year-olds should go well in the fourth event. The track should be well dried out and good time ought to be made. The entries and selections are as follows:

First Race.—Purse $400, for best horses, selling a low price, six furlongs.
